If U. S. farmers returned to horse power it would require 61 million horses and mules and 180 million acres to feed them.

* * *

A lot of farmers are getting equipment ready for spring work. Remember to use varsol instead of gasoline, kerosene, or diesel fuel when removing grease and dirt.

* * *

It's good to note that no fatalities have been reported in tractor accidents when ROPS were used in combination with seat belts.

The opening of the Suez Canel on June 5, 1975, shortens the mileage from Europe and the Far East by 5,000 miles and saves transportation dollars. For example, a shipment of wheat from Rotterdam to Bombay around the Cape of Good Hope costs $15.40 a ton, versus $9.22 through the canal. A dozen eggs in Jidda, Saudi Arabia sell for $1.80 a dozen when shipped around the Cape, but just under a dollar when they go through the canal. The opening of the canal holds tremendous opportunities for the U.S. farmer and cost reduction for the foreign consumer.

"SWEET, SWEET DREAMER

A two-act play written by a Longwood College junior will be presented Sunday in a benefit performance for the Virginia Lung Association, Central Region.

"Sweet, Sweet Dreamer" is set for 2 p.m. in Jarman Audiotrium at the College.

Ms. Jacqui Singleton, a speech and dramatics arts major from Norfolk, is the author of the play. "Dreamer" will be the ninth of Ms. Singleton's plays to be produced at Longwood this year. Five were produced last year.

"Sweet, Sweet Dreamer" is a play that deals with man and reality.

"Dreamer", said Ms. Singleton, "is the fantasy part of man that wants to break lose from reality."

"Man has the two very real aspects of fantasy and reality and in his personality, she said. "The whole thing is like a game and in the end we come to the conclusion that both aspects are necessary and that hope is the one redeeming grace between the two of them."

As with most of Ms. Singleton's writing, the inspiration for "Dreamer" came partly from herself.

She was studying for exams last spring, and a little too optimistic about the outcome. As she put it, "I was getting carried away with dreams and had to come to understanding of what was reality and what was dream."

The music is also the work of Ms. Singleton whose theatrical endeavors at Longwood have included acting, singing, and playing woodwind in the orchestra for Longwood players production, Oktoberfest and readers theatre.

"Dreamer" was not written with a benefit for the Virginia Lung Association in mind.

Produced For Class

She was producing the play for her directing class when L. B. Dent, an assistant professor of geography and an avid theatre supporter at the college, sat in on a rehearsal.

Dent in turn, knew the Virginia Lung Association, Central Region was looking for a fund raising project and suggested Ms. Singleton get in touch with Bob Shields, a Virginia Lung Association staff member at the Central Region office in Farmville.

Rick Vaughan, a veteran on the Jarman stage, will play the lead role of Dreamer and Don Chiles will play Man.

Also in the cast are Carol Scott, as Lust; Bill Ferguson, War; Jim Dumminger, Prejudice; Therees Tkach, Hope; and Melissa Johnston, Love.

Dr. Patton Lockwood, Karen Baling, and Melissa Crick will provide the musical background for the play.

Yetta Daniels, also a Longwood choregraphed the show.

Mrs. Emma G. Anthony, regional program director of the Virginia Lung Association Central Region, expressed her appreciation to L. B. Dent, Jacqui Singleton and the Longwood Players for their efforts on behalf of the Virginia Lung Association, Central Region.

For further information or advanced tickets contact, Mrs. Emma G. Anthony, regional director at the Virginia Lung Association, Central Region, 107 N. Main Street, Farmville, Virginia. Phone: 392-4136.

CRIME

The President is asking Congress to pass a gun control law.
As a citizen, may I ask, What for?
They have laws on the books
But money and sympathy free the crooks.

Crime is getting out of the Law's hands,
Because Judges will not take a firm stand.
The sheriff and his deputies are doing their best,
But they can only make an arrest.

They have violent men up for trial
The code and the Federal Judges say hold him awhile
This is a scheme as you can see,
So his lawyers can set him free.

When he goes back on the street,
He may rape the first young girl he meets
The psychiatrist say he is insane
But the girl he raped is left in pain.

For ninety days he is placed in a medical center
A penal institution he will never enter
Don't blame the sheriff and his men
The Judge is inviting crime with a stroke of his pen.

Harry D. Ferguson
Church Street
Appomattox, Va.

THE CITIZENS JUDGE

Judge Abbit is a citizens man
On crime he takes a very firm stand
Yes, he is a very fair judge
He has given me time, but I hold no grudge
He is a person hard to beat
At home, in Court, or on the street
Judge Abbitt wears a smile everyday
He will offer his help in everyway
He has a big job to do
Yet he is the same when the day is through

Hard at work all day and part of the night
Still when you face him he will protect your rights
He treats everyone the same
That is why he deserves an outstanding name
He will joke and sometimes play
But if you violate the law, you will have to pay.
